

590 Bergen Street

Townhouse Prospect Heights

This beautiful three story Queen Anne-style brick townhouse was designed by architect William H. Wirth, and built in 1886 by Thomas Butler as one of a row of twelve distinctive homes. The house sits on an extra deep 131 foot lot, which provides for a pretty front garden and an extremely deep and sunny south facing backyard. Inside, the house flows beautifully and is graced with historic details including original moldings, stairs, marble mantles, stained glass, and other elements. This legal two family home needs updating, but has new electrical and good bones. Bring your architect and contractor and make this period gem your own.
