

163 Maple Street

Townhouse :: Lefferts Gardens

Designed in the neo-renaissance style by famed Brooklyn architect Axel Hedman, for Eli Bishop & Son is 163 Maple Street. Maple Street between Bedford & Rodgers is arguably one of the best and most picturesque blocks to call home in Brooklyn. This spectacular home has just hit the market for the 1st time in over 70 years! Enter this home and feel like you've stepped back in time. The house looks exactly like it did when it was constructed in 1909. This house could be a museum; not one single piece of original detail has been damaged or removed, the floors are pristine, all of the door & window moldings are immaculate. Enjoy some of the most beautiful and ornate fireplaces you will ever come across, stunning moldings throughout every ceiling. The dining room is to die for, enter through some beautiful pocket doors and be wowed by exposed wood beams, some spectacular wainscoting across the entire room & a grand fireplace in the center.
