In Queens there are houses and there are homes. A home is a place where childhood dreams are born, where character is forged and family values become way of life. Here we find a home from a basement living space to an attic that lofts over one of three bedrooms, remembering not to forget that sun room that grandmother always fell asleep in during those lazy days of summer. And you know there wasn't a tool in the world that dad didn't have in that big garage. But still the joy of friends and family grilling in your own backyard..... Priceless. Such a home can only be sold as is.
